GT USA partners with local school to celebrate Thanksgiving

Wilmington, DE. – GT USA Wilmington marked its first thanksgiving holiday since taking over the helm at the Port of Wilmington with a turkey giveaway in the community.

CEO of GT USA Wilmington, Eric Casey, along with GT USA employee representatives from operations and admin departments, entered into the holiday spirit to help deliver and distribute turkeys to the children, families and staff of Bancroft Elementary School in South Wilmington.

250 turkeys were delivered to Bancroft Elementary's Principal Dolores Kingery, and Angela Ringgold the Community Schools Site Coordinator, by GT USA staff, with the help of Port of Wilmington customers – Royal Pest Solutions, an EcoLab company, and Global Reefers USA.

Corporate social responsibility forms a key foundation of how GT USA operates its businesses. Through the four pillars of the company's CSR policy the company actively encourages its employees to participate in any way they can with local groups in the areas surrounding the Port.

"We firmly believe that giving back to the community in any capacity - donating, volunteering - is a corporate responsibility," said Eric Casey, Chief Executive Officer at GT USA Wilmington.

"These are very early days for GT USA in Wilmington and we wanted to be able to share our excitement at taking over operations at the Port with some of our close neighbors and what better way to start than by marking one of the most important celebrations of the year, Eric continued. "I would like to express my sincere thanks to everyone who pulled together as one team to make this event possible, all the GT USA staff, along with John Achzet from Royal Pest Solutions and Harold Cohen from Global Reefers USA. We wish all the families at Bancroft Elementary a very Happy Thanksgiving."

GT USA has made a long-term commitment to the State of Delaware to deliver operational excellence and dependability from the Port of Wilmington and the planned new dedicated container terminal at Edgemoor to increase business opportunities, which in turn will grow the economy and job opportunities. Building a thriving business will also enable the company to deliver on its commitment to promote education through its planned ports and logistics training academy and through its CSR program. To launch its first initiative locally GT USA Wilmington will actively partner with the Bancroft Elementary School for the rest of 2018 and throughout the coming year and has pledged to work with the school faculty to identify where it can offer practical assistance.

The Port of Wilmington opened in 1923 and is a full-service deep-water port and marine terminal strategically located on 308 acres at the confluence of the Delaware and Christina Rivers. It is the top North American port for fresh fruit imports into the USA and has the largest dockside cold storage facility in the Country. GT USA Wilmington began operations in early October 2018.
